COTTON MARKETS*Falsity of Revolution Report
Causes Shorts to Cover,
But Market Erratic.

Monday Afternoon, Jan. 12.

Failure of the rumor that the German government had been overthrown to get confirmation caused a rush of covering on the part of shorts, and on Saturday, but the recovery was not all held. On the whole, considerable selling was done, and the market in liquidation of March by certain spot interests. Liverpool was not so bad as due, but it was not so good as the cant that buying from that direction was not so keen as it has been recently. A report that a big strike of cotton operatives in Bombay was received, but authorities failed to agree whether this would be bullish or bearish on Liverpool and other markets. More encouraging advice as to prospects for setting the threatened railroad strike in Great Britain received credit, causing some strength, but failed to offset the absence of the keen demand that has been so conspicuous lately. It seemed to some extent a case of the water having already passed and the wheels needing something additional to make them grind.

Liverpool closed irregular and unsettled at a decline of 24 to an advance of 17 points, differences between the nears and distant positions being further narrowed. Spots were marked 23 points, fully middling to 23.50, with sales 7,000 bales, including 5,000 American. Receipts for the day were 65,000 bales, including 50,000 American.

The occasion for the sharp initial advance in prices was that the basis for the sharp break of Saturday was a false one, which brought a lot of folks in bad position. March in New York opened at 28.00, a rise of 12 points overnight, and it sold at 28.00, 28.10, as high as 28.00. But buying power was not continued and there was some selling pressure, helped by stiffening in money and some reactionary disposition in other markets. The selling of March tended to unsettle the rest of the market a little, but pressure was not aggressive and the decline at its worst to within a short time of the close failed to carry the list to the previous close. March sold as low as 26.10, but recovered to 26.30, and then had another sharp sinking spell. Trading was all the while small and the market a narrow one, with sentiment more divided than it has been for some days.

Advices from the dry goods markets were still bullish, prices going higher than ever and the demand for goods being unabated, yet it failed to induce much snap in the spot department. Some observers thought perhaps this was due to the fact that the mills have gotten into pretty good shape as to raw material and it will take time for them to come to the point where they will buy the kinds of cotton that are still plentiful. Demand for the staples and good grades continue enough to take everything, but holders are clinging to it. There is nothing to suggest any weakness in spots and the support Wednesday on December consumption in this country is expected to lend encouragement to the bulls.

Futures closed 2 to 45 points up, tone steady.

New Orleans closed 7 to 37 points up, tone steady. Spots were unchanged, middling at 41c, with sales 315 bales.

Liverpool is due to come 15 to 15 points lower.

In the local market sales were 850 bales and quotations were unchanged, middling at 40c.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—There was a rush to rebuy contracts which had been sold in the cotton market on Saturday's unconfirmed rumors of political disturbances in Germany and the opening today was 24 to 30 points higher. Higher Liverpool cables and a good buyer from buying were factors on the advance which carried March contracts up to 27.80c and July to 26.50c. A good deal of realizing appeared at these figures and after the first wave of buying had been supplied prices began to slide. March for March and 33.40c for July. There was considerable trade buying and further scattered covering was checked. The reaction, however, and prices held about 45 to 60 points net higher toward the middle of the morning.

Fluctuations were irregular later in the morning and trading was much less active after the excitement subsided. Liverpool was a good buyer of March and July during the first hour but this demand slackened after the close abroad and later in the morning seemed to meet scattered Southern selling. The market turned easier in consequence with March selling off to 26.30c and July to 25.30c during the middle of the day when active months were about 45 to 75 points off from the high level of the morning although they still showed gains of 23 to 43 points as compared with Saturday's closing figures.

After selling off to 26.30c for March, the market showed a tendency to steady and buying appeared to be stimulated by a rumor that the British government had formed a

FROM WALL STREET*Stocks Have Spirited Advance Early, But Lose Much of It Later.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Stocks made spirited recovery at the opening of today's session from the sudden reversal which attended last week's final dealings. The rally was unexpected in many quarters because of the deficit in clearing house reserves and uncertainties attending another session of the United States supreme court. American Woolen led with a gain of 6 points, oils, steel, equipment and a few specialties rising 1 to 2 points. Much of the advance was forfeited within the first half hour, oils reacting sharply.

Moderate covering followed the 7 per cent money rate, the shorts evidently expecting a higher quotation. Improvement was of brief duration, however, the general list soon making another and more severe decline under the lead of oils, motors, steel and high-priced specialties.

The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 1,800,000 shares.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12.—A stiff advance opened the cotton market today and prices gained 82 to 90 points in the first half hour of business, March rising to 34.40c. Buying was due to better prices from Liverpool than expected, more hopeful dispatches concerning railroad labor troubles in England, the demand of the revolution rumors concerning Germany, which depressed the market Saturday, and to continued highly bullish accounts from the dry goods market.

Early buyers were quick to realize profits and their offerings were not received so thickly later in the morning. Net gains were pared down to 7 to 40 points, the near months showing far greater effects from the selling. The declines in foreign exchange seemed to prevent any new demand from developing after the middle of the morning.

Around the middle of the day the advance amounted to only 2 to 25 points, but the large movement increased the demand in the early afternoon and prices sprang up to a level 25 to 30 points higher than Saturday's close. Total exports from all ports amounted to 58,300 bales, against 5,591 this year last year.

Spots closed quiet and unchanged; ordinary, 27c; good ordinary, 28c; low middling, 33.50c; middling, 41c; good, 42c. Sales on the spot, 212; to arrive, 100.

Futures closed steady at an advance of seven to 37 points.

GRAIN MARKETS*Corn Reacts as Result of Warning From Wheat Price Director Barnes.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Prices readily declined in the corn market today as a result of selling based to a considerable extent on a warning by National Wheat Director Julius H. Barnes, who said that the Mexican revolution was a hazard after activities of the United States Grain corporation ended on June 1. A decline in hog prices further weakened the corn market. Opening prices varied from the same as Saturday's close to 1c lower with May at $1.32 1/4 and July at $1.32 1/4. Prices were followed by material setbacks all around.

Prices closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1c higher, with May at $1.34 1/4 and July at $1.32 1/4. Notwithstanding fair seaboard demand, oats weakened with corn. After a decline to 1c lower, including May at $1.25 1/4, the market underwent a decided sag.

Provisions were pulled down by the fall of hogs and grain. Subsequently announcement of big exports last week helped to rally the market.
